My website will be about the summary of World War Two, primarily in the European theater, and the major offensives in it. There will be five pages, each having a similar format, including the statistics of the battle, the offensives on a map, the summary, the conclusion, and any extra noteworthy details. The first page will be about the Invasion of Poland, which started World War Two. The second page will be about the Battle of France (I might also add an extra page, being the invasion of Denmark and Norway, if I have time). The third page will be about Operation Barbarossa, the invasion of the Soviet Union, which was the turning point of the war. The fourth will be about Operation Overlord (D-Day), which was the Allied liberation of France. The fifth page will be about the conclusion of the war (and includes the end of the Pacific theater), and how it led to the Cold War. When making the website, the general layout may slightly change from adding more info, and needing to fit it along with media; however, the attached drafts are my current planned layouts.
